SIX MISSING IN LATEST CHECK OF LAKE'S TRAGEDY

One Of These Is Wife of Steward of the Ill-fated "Senator"

Milwaukee, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Six persons, one a woman, were missing, probably drowned, and the body of a seventh had been recovered today as officials inquired into the most recent of Lake Michigan tragedies—the sinking of the freighter Senator.

Feeling her way through thick fog, the Senator was rammed amidships yesterday by the ore carrier Marquette and sank 20 miles off Fort Washington, Wis. The Marquette herself was saved from foundering by rescue tugs and was towed here last night.

Twenty-one persons were saved from the Senator. Among the missing was her Captain, George Finch. The missing woman was Mrs. Minnie Gormley, wife of the Steward. Several survivors reported seeing her slip from a life raft. Her husband was rescued.

Captain Walter F. Amsbury of the Marquette was reluctant to discuss the collision until after testifying. Members of his crew, however, volunteered the opinion that Captain Amsbury had done all that was humanly possible under the circumstances.

No Chance for Warning

The two freighters loomed suddenly out of the stock fog and hardly had time to sound a warning before the steel nose of the ore boat rammed broadside into the steel freighter, loaded with automobiles, ripped it open with such a gap that it went down before the crew could reach the life boats. It rolled over on its port side and sank rapidly. Two of its crew leaped and grabbed the Marquette, saving themselves. A third, Ralph Ellis, Senator Radio operator, buckled on a life belt and jumped. He was quickly pulled aboard the ore boat.

Nearly a score of them clung to a life raft and, as the fishing tug Delos H. Smith picked up 15 within 45 minutes after the crash and carried them safely to a dock at Port Washington. Three others supposedly were picked up by another ship, the Thomas J. Walters, which had not docked early today, apparently reading onto a northern port.

Started To Call Help

The Senator was eastbound out of Milwaukee for Detroit and other ports with a cargo of 241 automobiles. The Marquette was south bound to Indiana Harbor, Ind. with ore for the steel mills.

Ellis, the Senator's radio man, seeing the impending collision, darted into his room and started to send an SOS but the ship listed so soon after the crash he had to abandon his post. The prow of the Marquette was caved in completely but the boat managed to keep afloat until rescue tugs responded to its distress signals. It was towed into port at Milwaukee, badly disabled.

The body recovered was that of Donna N. Y.

The Senator was owned by the Nicholson Universal Steamship Company of Detroit. The Cleveland Cliff Iron Company of Cleveland owned the Marquette. Both freighters were all steel craft, each of more than 4,000 gross tons.

Depredations Were Curtailed Somewhat

A large force of special police patrolled the streets of Dixon until an early hour this morning protecting property and dispersing gangs of boys ranging in age from 10 to 20 years of age, who had assembled to celebrate Halloween. Several of the celebrants were escorted to the police station where they were lectured by Chief Van Bibber and singly sent to their homes.

Reports of property damage continued to come to the attention of the police throughout yesterday and last night. A garage on Oak Court in Dementown was completely demolished (some time) Wednesday night. Last evening the greatest damage to property was concentrated on the north side. A motor car was hurled through a window of a north side residence. For a time a portion of the north side, the Galleria avenue bridge and several homes were without electric service when a transmission line was put out of commission. Considerable damage was done at the Bovey green house when a gang shattered panes of glass with rocks. Some of the celebrants were ordered to report to Chief Van Bibber today to be questioned.

SAUCE FOR THE GANDER

Chicago—Merris Burns was said to have disconnected the lights in his house so his wife wouldn't read at night. So Mrs. Burns called the police and Pa Burns was taken to jail charged with disorderly conduct. He was placed in a cell where there were no lights.

Sparks of State News From Special Wires to Telegraph

POLICEMAN SHOT

Peoria.—(UP)—Patrolman Michael Lynch is hovering between life and death as the result of being shot through the breast, just above the heart, when Patrolman William Kreps accidentally dropped his revolver in the city patrol house last evening.

VIOLINIST INJURED

Lebanon.—(UP)—While enroute to Lebanon to fulfill a musical contract, Mme. Gray-Lehvine, famous violinist, escaped serious injuries when her automobile skidded into a ditch. A nine-year-old son and her accompanist were uninjured although Mme. Gray-Lehvine sustained a gash on the forehead.

YOUNG AUTO THEIF

Charleston.—(AP)—Bobby Waltrip, aged 11, has stolen his seventh automobile and today is in custody of Sheriff Moore. He was apprehended at a roadside five miles east of here with a machine belonging to W. A. Walton of Ashmore.

Sheriff Moore is perplexed by the youngster's antics. Promises to parents and other restrictive measures imposed by police and the sheriff's force, have failed to cure the boy of bad habits.

WON SPINNING CONTEST

Galesburg.—(AP)—It has been 55 years since Mrs. Christine Norburg, 78, has used her spinning wheel but last night she sat down before it and spun an ounce and a half of flax in 14 minutes, winning first prize in a contest. Her opponent was Mrs. Ed Halverson, 70, of Bishop Hill, who spent 19 minutes in spinning and winding the flax. Both women spun and wove their own thread and cloth in the early days here. A large crowd watched the contest.

KILLED BY BROTHER

Decatur, Ill., Nov. 1.—(UP)—A coroner's inquest was held today into the death of Henry Wade, 12, accidentally killed by his brother, Ernest Wade, 16, when the shotgun the youths were examining discharged at their farm home east of here last night.

The brothers discovered the gun in a shed on their father's farm as they were attending to some work. Ernest, it is said, was holding the gun at the time of the tragedy, the charge piercing Henry's abdomen. He died an hour later at a hospital here.

BLOCKS RITTER'S PLAN

Marion, Ill., Nov. 1.—(AP)—State Attorney Roy Browning of Williamson county said today he would not be a party to any agreement that would permit Connie Ritter, Birger gangster accused of three murders in southern Illinois, to plead guilty and receive a sentence of life imprisonment.

His announcement placed a stumbling block in efforts of Ritter's attorneys to obtain an agreement from State's Attorneys of Williamson, Franklin and Washington counties for the life sentence. Ritter, in jail at Benton, faces one murder indictment there, two in Williamson county and one in Washington county.

TOOK COLLEGE PAYROLL

Alton.—(AP)—Two men in a brown sedan held up E. R. Meister, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds at Monticello Seminary, Godfrey, Ill., on a road one-half mile from the Alton city limits at 11 A. M. today and escaped with a $1,800 payroll Meister and a chauffeur were taking to the seminary. Meister had come here from the seminary this morning and obtained the money from a bank to meet the payroll. He and the chauffeur drove out of the city on the Godfrey paved road and were overtaken by the robbers, who forced them to stop, and producing revolvers, took a bag containing money, removed the ignition key from Meister's car and then drove back toward Alton.

Covers Shortage

Flint, Mich., Nov. 1.—(AP)—The personal guarantee of Charles S. Mott, multi-millionaire executive of the General Motors Corporation, that an $800,000 shortage in accounts of the Union Industrial Bank of Flint, would cause an impairment in the condition of the bank allowed the announcement of the shortage to pass with scarcely a ripple in financial circles here.

Mr. Mott, who is Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Bank, announced late Thursday that approximately $800,000 of the bank's money had been misused by employees, but that the loss was covered by insurance.

Names of the employees involved were not made public.

RIFT IN SENATE OVER TARIFF IS GROWING WIDER

Seems Little Chance Of Bill Passing During Special Session

BY PAUL R. MALLON

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 1.—(UP)—President Hoover's demand that the Senate pass a tariff bill within two weeks has had no appreciable effect upon the Senate situation. The disorganized Republican factions floundered on today with a tariff program which left the ultimate fate of the bill in doubt.

To carry out the President's wishes someone would be forced to give in. It will not be the independent Republicans and Democrats who, in coalition, are rewriting the House bill to their satisfaction, according to statements from their leaders, Senators Borah of Idaho, and Norris of Neb. It will not be the industrial Senators of the east, say Senators Reed, Rehn, Pa., and Edge, Rehn, N. J.

The chaotic condition of tariff affairs was manifest by the manner in which the President's appeal was received. Majority Floor Leader James E. Watson, on his way to Florida for a three weeks rest under doctors' orders, advised the warring groups to get together and decide what kind of a bill they should pass.

This proposal was rejected immediately by Borah and Norris who said they would continue to fight for revision of the bill along the lines they have been pursuing. They could not give up their fight, they said.

As Watson left, Acting Floor Leader Jones of Washington announced he was ready to capitulate to the coalition majority. His plan called for acceptance of the coalition kind and passage of that bill in two weeks—the presidential recommendation so far as time was concerned.

Just as swiftly, the original framers of the bill, including Reed and Edge, rejected this proposition.

There being no other proposals for conciliation, the situation was left about as it was, or worse because of the fresh animosities aroused and the new apparent defection in Republican ranks, led by Jones.

Majority Disorganized. Never since 1912 has the majority party of the Senate been so disorganized. There are at least three groups—the eastern wing, the agricultural wing and the far western wing—no two of which are working in accord.

In furtherance of the widening breach between the eastern and agricultural wing, Reed made public last night a letter to F. W. Murphy, publisher of the Minneapolis Tribune, in which he protested against the slash in industrial tariff rates by the coalition asking:

"How in the world can you expect to make agriculture prosperous by impoverishing the industrial districts? And that is just what will happen if the senate coalition goes through with its present program. My best suggestion is that you send a few Senators who will look at this problem as Americans, and not as factionalists, sectionalists and populists."

Democratic Statement

Joett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic National Executive committee, issued a statement late yesterday regretting that President Hoover had not made public his stand on the tariff question. A statement outlining the White House policy in the matter, he declared, might aid in carrying the situation and result in prompt action on the pending bill. The President can have his desire to have a tariff bill go to conference within the next few weeks if he will be frank even at this late date," he said. "Assuming always that he still means what he said in his opening message to Congress."

In the last two weeks on the rate provisions of the tariff, the Senate has failed to conclude the first schedule. There are 16 schedules, which if considered at the same rate of speed, would be concluded in 30 weeks or about the middle of next March. There is every reason to believe the speed will be swifter than that, however.

Mayor Is Jeered

Berlin, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Jeers, hisses and threats of physical violence greeted Gustav Boess, Lord Mayor of Berlin, arriving here after an American tour in which he was everywhere honored as first magistrate of one of the world's largest cities.

A crowd of 2,000, composed largely of Communists, and bearing banners assailing his alleged share in Berlin's municipal scandal, met him at the railway station and shouted "Down with him" into the windows of his railway coach.

The Lord Mayor and his wife both were hurried from the station by a private exit while squads of police kept the angered citizens back from them, but they found another gathering in front of their home.

YOUNG MAN INSTANTLY KILLED BY FAST TRAIN AT STERLING TODAY

(Telegraph Special Service.)

Sterling, Oct. 1.—Martin Wolber, aged 30, of Emerson was killed instantly, his body being terribly mangled, when Northwestern passenger train, No. 16, the Fox and Limited, struck the Ford coupe he was driving at the Avenue G crossing this morning about 6:40. Witnesses said that the wig-wag danger signal was operating and it was believed that Wolber either attempted to beat the train to the crossing or his vision of the approaching speeding train was obscured by a high embankment.

Wolber was on his way to his work at the International Harvester Company plant at Rock Falls. The east bound limited train was a few minutes late, but was said to be traveling at the usual rate of speed upon entering the city. Wolber was thrown a distance of about 200 feet from the car and probably killed instantly. Both legs and arms were broken, his body and head being terribly mangled. The body was thrown between the main line tracks ahead of the locomotive.

The car was carried a distance of about seven blocks on the pilot of the locomotive before the train was brought to a stop and was so badly crushed that it could scarcely be recognized as having been an automobile.

Wolber was unmarried and lived with his mother in the village of Emerson, west of Sterling. He is survived by two brothers, John E. Wolber of this city, and Lester, who resides north of Sterling on route 40. Coroner Frye will conduct an inquest over the remains today. The funeral arrangements had not been completed at noon.

Prosecutor Discloses Alleged Scheme of Theater Man

BULLETIN

Los Angeles, Nov. 1.—(UP)—Sentencing of Alexander Pantages, multi-millionaire showman, convicted of attacking 17-year-old Eunice Pringle, which was scheduled for today, was postponed until Nov. 9 pending disposal of motions for a new trial.

Los Angeles, Nov. 1.—(AP)—A declaration by District Attorney Buron Pitts that it would be "unsafe" to release Alexander Pantages under bond pending motion for a new trial on charges of attacking Eunice Pringle, dancer, was followed by an announcement today from defense attorneys that they would not seek temporary freedom for the multi-millionaire theater man.

Pitts stated yesterday that his investigators had learned of a plan of the wealthy theater man to flee to Mexico by airplane, while his trial was in progress here. The District Attorney asserted a plane had been engaged at San Diego and that his investigators had learned this before the case reached the final arguments last week.

Pantages, who was at liberty under bail of $25,000 during the taking of testimony, was remanded to the custody of deputy sheriffs near the close of the trial and sent to jail as soon as the jury convicted him.

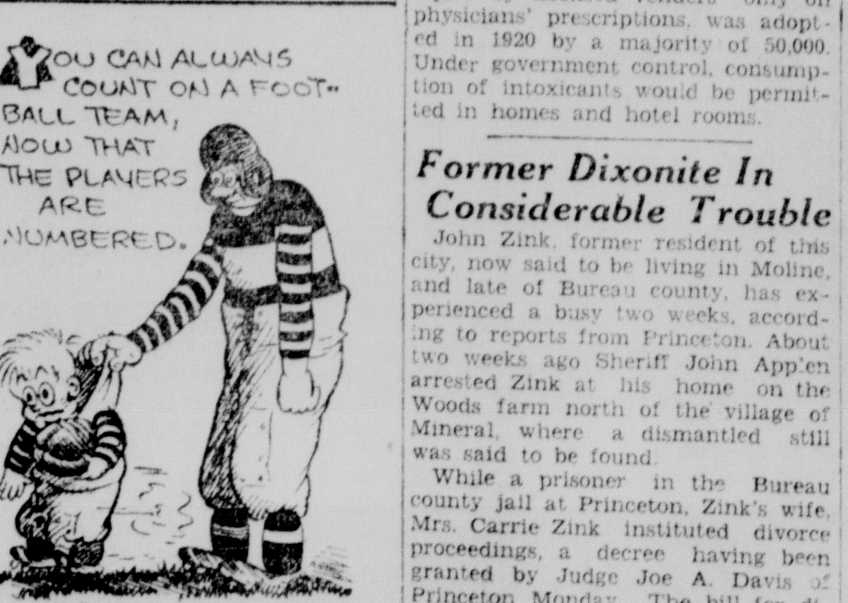

Pantages was to have been given a sentence today of one to fifty years in prison but the definite announcement that defense attorneys would ask a new trial indicated it would be postponed.

The cult's belief is that the world will end Nov. 6 of this year and so sure are they that they have kept all their belongings and stock, keeping just enough provisions to support them until that day.

QUIET (?) NIGHT FOR CHICAGOANS ON HALLOWEEN

Survey of Activities Shows Policeman Had Best Time

Chicago, Nov. 1.—(UP)—As Halloween's go in Chicago, it was a quiet evening, marked only by a beer war bombing, one shot by a gunman in a holdup, four "L" guards assertedly beaten up by a celebrating policeman one safe blown and the store set afire, 150 fire alarms, three street cars bombarded with rotten eggs, traffic jam for blocks when boys took charge of traffic lights at a busy corner, and various minor riots, robberies and the like.

Damage estimated at $5000 was done when a bomb exploded at the Villa Venice roadhouse. Mrs. Albert Boucher, wife of the owner, the only person in the place at the time, was not injured. Police blamed a beer gang war.

Policeman Michael Murphy had about the best time, according to the stories of four guards on the Chicago Rapid Transit Lines. When a guard on the line he insisted the car be run nine blocks further to where he lived. The guard explained the tracks ended there, Policeman Murphy struck him and three other guards who came to the rescue, the trainmen claimed. To top off the evening, the officer was said to have threatened everybody near with his revolver.

Thieves Started Fire

Yeggs got only $100 from a West Madison street hardware store sale. Perhaps that is why they set fire to the building, doing $1000 damage.

Street cars at Kedzie Avenue and Fulton Street ran a barrage of eggs hatched about the time of the Chicago fire. All traffic at another intersection was given the right of way by manipulation of the red and green light boxes and it took half an hour to restore progress.

Vittorio Torrez was shot in the side when he resisted the arrest of a masked gunman to take his money. He probably will recover.

Other celebrators stole $10,000 worth of rugs, stole a number of rowboats, some pulled up trees and four young fellows dressed up like women and caused a rampage in the Dearborn Plaza hotel lobby.

Alleged Capital 'Legger Arrested

Washington, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Arrested at the entrance of the Senate office building, George L. Cassidy, once known as "The Man in the Green Hat," was at liberty today on $3,000 bond, posted on charges of transportation and possession of intoxicating liquor.

Cassidy was prominent in the news several years ago when he was identified as the man who had been accused by an officer in the House office building, dropped a brief case containing a bottle of liquor and fled. The policeman in question remembered only the color of Cassidy's hat and a search was instituted for "The Man in the Green Hat," which finally resulted in his arrest.

The second arrest came yesterday. Police had followed him from his home to the Senate office building, where he left his automobile and entered. A few minutes later he emerged, took a package from the car and started again toward the entrance. Then he was arrested. The police said the package he carried contained a bottle of whiskey, and that two more were found in the machine. A search of his home, they said, disclosed a stock of 266 quarts of assorted liquors.

The building will house reception room, offices, consultation, operating and treatment rooms. Special equipment will be installed and it is expected that the addition will be ready for use about November 15. When completed and furnished it will be one of the finest suites of its kind in this section of the country.

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL IS DENIED BY JUDGE TODAY

Court For Suspension Of the Jail Sentence During Illness

BY HERBERT LITTLE

(United Press Staff Correspondent) Washington, Nov. 1.—(UP)—Former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall was sentenced to serve one year and fined $100,000 by Justice William Hitz today following his conviction on a charge of having accepted a bribe from E. L. Doheny, multi-millionaire California oil man, in connection with the Elk Hills naval oil reserve leases.

Fall, who has been ill with lung trouble and whose condition threatened to cause a mistrial, was not granted suspension of the sentence. It was the first time in American history that a former Cabinet officer has been sentenced to jail for a felony committed while in office.

Sentence was imposed after Justice Hitz had overruled motions for a new trial and for arrest of the judgment against Fall.

Disqualification of Fall from holding public office although not mentioned by the Judge in sentencing follows automatically under the law.

No Demonstration. There was no demonstration in the courtroom when sentence was passed. Mrs. Fall, sitting close to her husband, patted him on the back and whispered a few words to him.

Fall's two daughters, Mrs. C. C. Chase and Mrs. Jowett Elliott, bowed their heads as if shocked by the sentence.

Fall sat without visible emotion in his chair as the Judge pronounced sentence. Mrs. Fall, just behind him in the prisoners dock, wept silently.

Justice Hitz announced that he would have suspended the prison sentence if the execution of the penalty was to have gone into effect today because of Fall's physical condition. As the case is to be appealed, he said, this could not be done. The $100,000 fine was exactly the amount which Fall received in a little satchel from Doheny eight years ago this month, which was held by the jury last week to have been a bribe.

Doheny Not Present

Doheny, against whom a bribery indictment growing out of the same transaction is pending, sat beside Fall throughout the trial but left for California immediately after the verdict. His trial is expected to be held in January.

Fall, much refreshed from the week of rest since the verdict was rendered, walked into the court room on the arm of his physician, having discarded the wheel chair which he came to court in during the trial.

After the sentence was imposed, however, a wheel chair was used to take him to an automobile awaiting at the court house door a few feet away.

Fall's bond of $5,000 on which he has been free since his indictment in June, 1924, was renewed by Justice Hitz pending disposition of the appeal.

Two members of the jury which convicted the aged former Secretary a week ago sat in the rear of the court room when the sentence was imposed. They were Foreman Thomas E. Norris, the young bank clerk who announced the jury verdict guilty, and Miss Virginia Cooper, 23, a bookkeeper.

Attorney Frank J. Hogan made no plea for clemency, merely replying in the negative when Justice Hitz asked if there was any reason why sentence should not now be imposed.

May Avoid Fine

Fall may avoid payment of the $100,000 fine by taking a "poor convict's oath and serving 30 days additional in jail.

Justice Hitz said he would under normal conditions have imposed the maximum penalty, three years in prison and a fine of $300,000.

But because of what the court saw of Fall during the trial and because of the unanimous report of physicians that Fall was seriously ill with a bronchial ailment, Justice Hitz decided that the maximum penalty should not be imposed.

Justice Hitz added that since an appeal was to be taken, automatically suspending operation of the sentence, he would let the penalty stand, incorporating in the record the statement that as long as the defendant's condition is as it is, he favored suspension.

Fall returned to his hotel with his family at the end of the 20-minute comment on the sentence but said session of court which was so momentous for him. He refused to that a statement would be issued in his behalf later in the day.

Mark B. Thompson, Phoenix, Ariz., personal lawyer, who collapsed with a heart attack when the jury verdict was reported, sat by Fall's side today, but did not address the court.

Milk, Dog Only Clue

Detroit, Nov. 1.—(AP)—A small white poodle dog and a can of condensed milk are the sole clues police had today in connection with the slaying of William Pardy, 22, last night.
Pardy was shot and killed as he was playing a game of solitaire in the apartment of three friends. The three friends, brothers, are Alfred, Phillip and Herbert Shanow. They are held as witnesses.
Pardy was to have spent the night with them. Alfred Shanow, returning from escorting a girl companion to a theater, found Pardy's body. The other brothers, sleeping in an adjoining room, said they did not hear the shot.
The dog and milk were found in the apartment but all three of the men disclaimed ownership of them. Police are searching for the girl Alfred said he escorted to the theater.

Pranksters Wounded

Rockford, Ill., Nov. 1.—(UP)—A Halloween prank resulted in serious injury to two boys and arrest of Carl Swanborg, 26, on a charge of shooting them after they had upset an outbuilding on his property.
John Worden, 17, was the most seriously hurt. Sixteen buckshot entered his chest, stomach, arms and forehead. He was not expected to live. Howard Powers, 16, was less seriously injured.
Swanborg's outbuilding was upset by boys holding a pre-Halloween celebration two nights ago. Last night they returned. Swanborg, awaiting them, said later that he fired one shotgun charge into the air. The boys said he fired directly at them three times.

Minnesota Man To Enforce Dry Laws

Washington, Nov. 1.—(AP)—G. A. Youngquist, Attorney General of Minnesota, has been selected by President Hoover to succeed Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt as Assistant Attorney General in charge of prohibition enforcement.
Mr. Youngquist, who was born in Sweden and whose home is in Crookston, Minn., is now in Washington and will take office in the near future. His nomination is expected to be transmitted to the Senate this week.
The Minnesotan has served several terms as Attorney General of his state and before that was Assistant Attorney General. He has appeared before the Supreme Court of the United States as a representative of Minnesota on a number of occasions and lawyers here say that he has a splendid standing before that court.
Friends of the administration describe Mr. Youngquist as a firm believer in the dry cause. They also say that his record as enforcement officer of Minnesota is excellent.

Agriculture Stronger

Washington, Nov. 1.—(AP)—The Department of Agriculture announced today that its November reports showed agriculture to be in a stronger position this year than a year ago largely on account of lower production and higher prices.

Since early summer, the Department said, prices of practically all groups of farm commodities with the exception of meat animals, had increased.

The total output of principal food and feed crops this year, it continued, would be somewhat below that of last year although the acreage harvested would be about the same. Hay was listed as the only important crop which substantially exceeds production of last year.

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 1.—(UP)—Norman Trevor, 51, who gained fame as a movie star and Olympic athlete, died in poverty Thursday at the Norwalk Hospital for the Insane, it was learned today.

Insanity proceedings were started against Trevor in 1928 by H. B. Warner, actor and close friend, who told how he had written checks for several thousand dollars without funds.

The body was held at the hospital pending instructions from a daughter, Doris Trevor of New York.

Miss MacDonald Does Not Like to Be Personal

Liverpool, Nov. 1.—(UP)—Ishbel MacDonald, upon landing on British soil today, was asked whether she would deny the report of her engagement to Lord Arnold, British Paymaster General, who was a member of Premier Ramsay MacDonald's party during the visit to the United States.

Ishbel laughingly parried questions on the subject. "I have never denied it. I have ignored it. I took no notice of it at all," she said.

She declared she had had a wonderful time in America and regretted she had to leave so soon. "I'm not saying anything about American women and their fashions," she added. "I don't like being personal."

Juvenile Club Had Happy Meeting

The members of the Juvenile Club of the Douglas Community Center spent a most delightful evening last evening with a Halloween masquerade party. The children, ranging in ages from 2 to 12 years enjoyed games and contests. A feature of the evening was a series of booths, neatly arranged, at which wares and products of every country in the world were displayed. Miss Nichols and W. J. Furlong Wed Last Evening

A very pretty yet quiet wedding was solemnized last evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Alfred Nichols, 418 Crawford avenue, when her daughter, Miss Josephine Marie Nichols, was united in marriage to W. J. Furlong of Rochelle. (The wedding, which was postponed from Tuesday, was a very quiet affair, because of the recent tragic deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Furlong of St. Louis, the bridegroom's brother and wife, who met their deaths in an automobile accident while enroute to the wedding). The Reverend A. Turley Stephenson, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Dixon, officiated at the impressive ceremony in the presence of the immediate relatives. The bride made a charming picture in her gown of blue transparent velvet. The bride and bridegroom were unattended. After the congratulations dainty refreshments were served, Mr. and Mrs. Furlong then left on their honeymoon, traveling by motor. Upon their return they will probably make their home in Rochelle. Mr. Furlong, who is a commercial traveler, is highly regarded by a large circle of friends. His bride is a delightful young woman whose charming and unaffected personality has won her a host of friends who join with those of her husband in wishing the couple every happiness.

Present at the wedding last evening was the mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Lucy Furlong of Rochelle, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Furlong of Dallas, Texas.

Meeting Phidian Art Club Enjoyed

The Phidian Art Club met on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. L. Dement and Mrs. Lloyd Davies.

After a brief business session, Mrs. Wilson Dysart, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Davies, sang very sweetly, "My Lover is a Fisherman," by Strickland, and "Tis Snowing" by Benberg.

A most interesting talk was given by Mrs. M. Turner of Normal, on the cultural Rabinidath Tagore, poet, teacher and musician of India, whose writings range from children's poems to those of religion and mysticism. Mrs. Turner is well versed in the literature of this man of India and read several of his delightful poems for children and a few other stories and poetic gems in a most charming manner.

Delicious refreshments were served, Mrs. C. A. Todd and Mrs. C. B. Morrison pouring.

PAINTERS MAY GET PARIS HISTORIC PALAIS-ROYAL

Paris.—(UP)—The historic Palais-Royal, once the dwelling place of French kings, and later the fashionable site of gambling rooms, jewelry shops and fine restaurants, may be turned into a new quarter for painters, if the project of two Montparnasse artists is realized.

Virtually deserted by the Parisians and bereft of all its former glory, the spacious palace with its great central court, is set forth as the ideal place for painters, inasmuch as the central arcades are formed of rows of little shops where the paintings could be exposed and put up for sale, each artist or school having its own store.

The hundreds of apartments in the old palace, could be turned over to the artists and their families, and the spacious garden, which is now almost deserted, could afford an ideal promenade for those frequenting the artist's colony. It is pointed out that the painters colony at Montparnasse is so choked up with bohemians, tourists and sightseers, that it is no longer possible to paint there.

John, Joseph And Marilyn Entertain

The children of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas, John, Joseph and Marilyn, entertained very happily last evening at their home with a Halloween party. It was a hard times party and masked and no one's identity was known until they unmasked. Guessing games and contests were enjoyed and the boys especially enjoyed a boxing contest. Halloween decorations graced the home and were very pretty. Later after unmasking, delicious refreshments were served.

Bride-to-be Was Honored Last Evening

Last evening Miss Alice Richardson and Miss Katherine Wright entertained with a delightful bridge supper at 5:30 at the Richardson home for Miss Margaret Knick, in honor of her approaching marriage to Atty. Lloyd Scriven. A tempting supper was served at the bridge table to the twelve guests, the home and tables being prettily decorated in the popular orange and black of the Halloween season, with talleis and favors corresponding.

Mrs. Willard Countryman was awarded the favor for high honors at bridge. Mrs. Allan Harnish won the second favor and all present joined in making Miss Knick a lovely guest favor, with their best wishes.

Joint Hallowe'en Party Was Enjoyed

Mary Louise Smith and Alice Hintz yesterday afternoon after school entertained at a joint Halloween party a number of their school friends and all had a merry time. At the Smith home the basement was arranged and decorated as a sort of a witch's home and two or three witches or spooks, assisted in receiving and making the guests feel at home (?), and there were many shrieks of excitement as they tried to make friends with the youngsters. A witch's cauldron or kettle was arranged in one corner, and Halloween emblems used, also and pumpkin faces, etc., used. Halloween games were enjoyed here and then later, the merry party witches and all, tramped over to the C. C. Hintz home, where in the basement they found another witch's meeting place and here was a table all set for Halloween guests prettily decorated with Halloween colors and favors and nut cups, etc., with Halloween faces on the cakes, and part of the refreshments were retrieved from the witches' cauldron which was merrily singing in a corner of the room. It was a tired and happy group of young folks who expressed their pleasure to Mary Louise and Alice at the conclusion of the enjoyable frolic.

BROKERS HAVING CHANCE TO CATCH UP WITH MARKET

Two Days Suspension Of Business On Stock Exchange

New York, Nov. 1.—(AP)—The stock market was closed today while brokers strove to catch up with the greatest volume of business ever transacted in four days in the history of Wall Street.

The Stock Exchange and the curb market ended their week yesterday after a three hour session in which a flood of buying, stimulated by constructive financial news, recouped much of the loss in quoted values suffered in the record breaking collapse of Monday and Tuesday.

Prices on the Stock Exchange showed net gains ranging from two to 30 points for the day and the maximum gain on the curb was 55 1/2.

Buying orders flooded into the market, attracted by relatively low prices for high grade investment stocks resulting from the deflation during the fore part of the week.

Reductions Reduced Confidence which had reassured itself Wednesday was further fortified by announcement of the reduction of the New York Federal Reserve discount rate from six to five per cent and of the rate of the Bank of England from six and one-half to six per cent.

Another feature of the day was the

HEALING THE WOUNDS.

The human race can be counted on to make a rather impressive string of blunders every year of its existence. But once in a while we get a glimpse of the things that will be possible to it, once it has reached the high level of intelligence and devotion already attained by a few of its members.

Representatives of the republics of North and South America are now working on a plan for a great memorial laboratory in Panama to carry on the long fight against tropical diseases. The laboratory, fathered by the United States government, is to be the new world's memorial to William C. Gorgas, one of those men who, by their lives and achievements, point out for the rest of us the race's real possibilities for neighborliness and brotherhood.

In 1898 the United States plunged into the war with Spain. It took away the last of Spain's new world possessions, set Cuba free, annexed the Philippines. A little later it began work on the Panama canal. A few years later it extended its economic and political influence more and more deeply into various Central American and West Indian countries.

These things were spectacular. They aroused a good deal of suspicion in various quarters in Latin America; this country began to look, to some South Americans, like a colossus that would eventually swallow all of its neighbors. Naturally, this did not make for any increased friendliness.

But during that same period William Gorgas was doing his work. First he rid Havana of yellow fever. Then he made the Panama Canal Zone, long one of the world's deadliest spots, a region of health. He showed various South Americans how to do similar things in their own cities. He saved no one knows how many thousands of Latin-American lives. As a result, Gorgas became the idol of Latin America. This year's move to establish a memorial laboratory to him instantly won the hearty co-operation of every republic south of the Rio Grande.

These is in all of this a great deal of food for thought. One or two more Americans like Gorgas would make the people of Latin America our friends forever. He gave the new world an object lesson in brotherhood and international co-operation that can never be forgotten.

WIVES AND SKYSCRAPERS.

Rebecca West, English novelist, returns to London after visiting America with a distressing tale about the hardships of the American woman.

Most Americans, she says, "live in skyscrapers with their women perched high in the air where they can't keep a dog, much less keep a family." Lives of American women materially inclined thus become tragic, she says.

This is a saddening picture, and would be alarming if it were true. But, as anybody who lives in America knows, it isn't. The percentage of families living in skyscrapers, or anything approaching the skyscraper, is so small as to be negligible. Rather more than 50 per cent of all Americans own their own homes.

The amount of misinformation a visiting Britisher can collect about us seems to be absolutely unlimited.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

You couldn't blame the cackling hen for chasing frightened Clowdy when the careless lad had stepped upon a nest of thirteen eggs. Across the piles of hay they flew. The next thing that wee Clowdy knew he toppled flat because he couldn't stand upon his legs.

The hen then lit upon his head and pecked until poor Clowdy said, "Hey, get away. That hurts. My head is not made out of wood. I promise I will never again disturb a peaceful, setting hen. Let me alone and after this I always will be good."

By this time all the others "woke and what they saw seemed quite a joke. Then Scouty scampered 'cross the hay and waved his arms in air. "Get out of here," he loudly cried. "Go on there, chicken, fly outside. You've paid wee Clowdy back by giving him an awful scare."

Of course this scared the flapping hen. She cackled very loud and then flew straightway out a window and soon disappeared from sight. Poor Clowdy sat and rubbed his head and then he very meekly said, "I thought that was my finish, boys, but now I feel all right." "Shucks," said Carpy, "just when we were sleeping soundly as could be, you had to start a rumpus. Now we all are wide awake." Just then they heard a whistling sound and all the Tynmites looked around. "That was the wind," said Coppy. "See? The barn's begun to shake."

And he was right. The wind blew strong and whistled quite a wild-sike song. And then the barn creaked loudly, giving everyone a scare. The barn then slowly left the ground and seemed to almost turn around. In just about a moment it was floating through the air.

'QUAKE DESTROYS LISBON

On Nov. 1, 1755, an earthquake destroyed the city of Lisbon, the capital of Portugal, killed between 30,000 and 40,000 persons and damaged property to the value of $100,000,000.

For many centuries the city had suffered from earthquakes but without serious consequences until the one in 1755 reduced the greater part of it almost in an instant to a heap of ruins.

A tidal wave at the same time broke over the quays and wrecked shipping in the Tagus river. Fire completed the work of destruction. The district surrounding an old Moorish castle in the center of the city was the only part not destroyed.

The rapid recovery of the city from the disaster was due largely to the energetic work of the prime minister, the Marquis of Pombal. The city soon became prosperous again, but at the beginning of the 19th century the French invasion, the Peninsular war, the loss of Brazil and dynastic troubles resulted in the decadence of Lisbon from which it did not recover until after 1850.

Daily Health Talk

EPIDEMICS

By Kate C. Mead, M. D.,
Haddam, Conn.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. Headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G. Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

Mankind in general is to blame for all human diseases. We, the people, are the carriers of germs of every sort. Hence — epidemics.

They came from the East—Asia and Africa, for man has migrated from the east toward the west and north and wherever he has gone, or goes, there parasites, germs, bacteria, vermin, all go with him, ready to hop or wriggle or bore for their next meal, and, in self-protection, to increase and multiply according to nature's first law.

They get into the cities and there they meet officers of the Board of Health who have taught the children in our public schools that it is as much of a crime to give a person a "common cold" as to shoot him. "Thou shalt not kill"—either with typhoid or tuberculosis or influenza or common cold—is one of the Ten Commandments, and it is the duty of the city health officers to see the law enforced. This duty would be easier for them to perform if we who know a bit about epidemics would take care of our own bodies, when infected and not selfishly go among our friends with the "goods on us." If we were decently clean and used more soap and water and less lip stick and powder, and if we built up our own resistance by eating good food instead of eating trash and if we fought our germs in private, loving our neighbors as ourselves, the task of the government and its health spies would be far easier and cheaper.

But even so cities are not hospitable to epidemics, and the germs speed to the smaller communities where there is a lack not only of health spies and of funds appropriated for stamping out the beginnings of epidemics, but lack of honest effort of each private citizen to cooperate with the government in protecting a well person from one suffering from any contagious disease.

Therefore, measles and whooping cough and diphtheria take a terrible toll from among the country children, and epidemics of influenza are very fatal in the villages.

Therefore we may say that every Adam and every Eve is to blame for an epidemic, but if all the pools and swamps were dry there would be no plague. If all the rats were dead there would be no plague. If all the human carriers had clean hands there would be very little typhoid fever. If all sore throats were promptly discovered there would be no diphtheria. If all the common colds were isolated there would be no broncho-pneumonia. Individual freedom of action in these matters is as impossible in any community as is the unrestricted use of guns and poison gas, for the whole community suffers unfairly for the sins of the individual and even on a light-house island the keeper's family is not safe from germs brought to him by the purveyors of his groceries, especially butter and fresh fruit.

We have heard old bachelors complain against school taxation and elderly spinsters rant against the campaign for saving babies, and farmers denounce the tuberculosis tests for their cattle, and milk-men rag against the milk inspectors as well as against the trouble of sterilizing their cans, and manufacturers swear because they are not allowed to pollute the streams, and cyster-men curse the law that prevents their planting their oysters in the ooze of infected coves, but one case of tuberculosis or of typhoid fever, one pair of eyes blinded by measles, one life shortened by heart disease or nephritis can cause more expense in a family than the community health taxation over a period of many years.

whether or not they favor modification of the prohibition law to permit the manufacture and sale of light wines and beer, Representative Schafer said, adding that he will seek action on it at the regular session of Congress in December.

"This method of securing the views of the American people on prohibition," the Wisconsin Representative asserted, "would be cheaper than a national referendum on the question. The results of the questioning by the census takers also would be of great value to President Hoover's law enforcement commission in making its recommendations after its investigation."

Senate Committee To Investigate 'Change

Washington, Oct. 31.—(AP)—A resolution authorizing the appointment of a committee of five senators to investigate speculative operations on all stock exchanges and report remedial measures not later than Feb. 1, 1930, was prepared today by Senator Nye, Republican, North Dakota.

The committee would include in its membership Chairman Norris of the Judiciary committee and Chairman Norbeck of the Banking committee, as well as the respective ranking minority members of these committees, Senators Overman, North Carolina and Fletcher, Florida.

The resolution says that speculative operations of the Stock Exchange "threaten the stability and integrity of the entire industrial life of the country," and "it is necessary that legislation be enacted to regulate purely speculative operations in the securities representing the physical equipment of the industrial structure of the nation."

Many Volunteers For Alcohol Experiment

Copenhagen, Oct. 31.—(UP)—Recruits besieged the Psycho-Technic Institute of Copenhagen today to sacrifice themselves to science in experiments to measure how much alcohol the average person of various classes of society can drink before becoming inebriated.

The general purpose of the experiments will be to measure individual intelligence by comparing the results of alcohol on various persons. The amount consumed will be carefully measured and the patient's reaction noted in detail.

Classes will be divided into four groups for experimentation over a period of two months. There will be 200 subjects.

Chicago Has a Real Canary Case To Puzzle Police

Chicago—(UP)—Chicago has a real canary murder case. That is unless it develops into a suicide or a kidnapping.

The plot revolves around "Nimble," prize winning canary bird that belonged to Miss Anna Gustafson, 45, mistress of a team.

Three weeks ago, Miss Gustafson committed suicide by inhaling gas. Police found "Nimble" panting for breath in his cage nearby.

Policeman William Tobin was stationed at the home to guard Miss Gustafson's effects. He declares he saw the live bird in its cage. He was relieved at midnight by Policeman M. Gibbons, who insists he saw nothing but the empty cage.

A search was instituted, but it was not until three days later that a dead bird was found lying on a sewing cabinet.

Miss Lillian Weinberger, a friend of Miss Gustafson's maintains that the body was not that of "Nimble." She said she had found silverware and clothing missing from the house and accused police of having stolen the articles and the $100 bird, and of having brought back the corpse of an inexpensive warbler to cover the theft.

Policeman Gibbons denied the charge and suggested that "Nimble" had died from the effects of the gas. An autopsy was performed by the coroner who found death to have been caused by a broken neck.

This gave rise to the suicide theory of Policeman Tobin. "That bird died of grief," he maintained. "When it found its mistress was dead it escaped from its cage and hurled itself about the room until it broke its neck. If someone from the detective bureau will examine the scene carefully he'll probably find blood on the walls."

NO MEDICINE TO EVEN HELP HIM UNTIL GLY-CAS

Years of Rheumatic Agony All Ended Now, Without Sign of Former Stomach Troubles.

Mr. O. H. Wallmo, 188 Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is among the hundreds and hundreds of former sufferers who feel and frankly admit to publicly that there never was such a medicine before as this new Gly-Cas discovery for agonizing stomach troubles and rheumatism.

MR. O. H. WALLMO

"I had tried other medicines brought to our city in the past but certainly never a one like this new Gly-Cas," said Mr. Wallmo recently. "I suffered constantly for years from sciatic rheumatism and stomach troubles. There seemed no rest for me at all because of the agony in my arms and shoulders and I'd actually been so bad I couldn't lie down for the misery in my shoulders and limbs, too. Then there was also the suffering I had to endure from stomach. Well, sir, the effect of the first few doses of Gly-Cas made me feel that I had found the medicine I needed for years and I will honestly say now that of all the many preparations I had used, there is only one that could actually restore my health, and that's Gly-Cas. I simply feel fine, my rheumatism of years is all ended, so I'm not even bothered with the former terrible pains in my arms, shoulders and limbs and I'm free of the stomach troubles, too. Gly-Cas is undoubtedly the most efficient remedy, and by far, that I have ever tried before."

Gly-Cas is sold in Dixon at the Campbell White Cross Pharmacy, Sold Franklin Grove, G. S. Ives; Polo, C. R. Clothier; Ashton, G. R. Charters; Amboy, Aschenbrenner Drug; Compton, W. H. Hills; Rochelle, Barker & Sullivan and by leading druggists in all surrounding towns.—Adv.

German Cinderella Wins $8,000 Damages

Chicago, Oct. 31.—(UP)—The love letters of a middle-aged five-and-ten-cent-store magnate won a German Cinderella an $8,000 settlement of her breach of promise suit when she appeared in Circuit Court here. Miss Elfriede Worthmann of Berlin, Germany, a student at Columbia University Medical School, testified she met August Deverman, operator of a string of "popular price" stores, while on her way to America in 1926. She was 19 at the time, she said. He was in his early forties. Deverman promised to marry her, Miss Worthmann testified, gave her valuable presents and agreed to buy her an estate on the Rhine. Twenty-five letters were read in court.

"My Dear Cinderella," the first one read, in part, "I cannot live without you; I cannot be without you. You have made me very happy. I keep singing, 'Let's Follow the Swallow.'" "Since you mention stockings, I am sending you some of our stock in the store. They are, of course, not the best, for we are selling them not over 98 cents."

Deverman, who is married, did not appear in court but sent a letter offering to settle for $8,000.

DIXON HIGH GOES TO SAVANNA FOR WEEK-END BATTLE

Non-Conference Contest Will Be Played In That Place

NORTH CENTRAL CONF. Standings

Rochelle	3	0	0	1,000
Dixon	1	1	1	500
DeKalb	1	1	1	500
Sterling	0	1	1	500
Belvidere	0	2	0	000

Games Saturday

Dixon at Savanna. (Non-Conf.)
Sterling at Belvidere. (Conf.)
DeKalb at Sycamore. (Non-Conf.)

The Dixon high school purple and white football squad accompanied by a delegation of fans and students, will journey to Savanna tomorrow to repay a visit of former seasons with the high school squad of that city. Savanna formerly held an enviable position in the football circles of northern Illinois and may be looked forward to giving Dixon plenty to do. The game is a non-conference contest the only official battle in the North Central conference between Sterling and Belvidere at the latter place. In the event that Sterling wins this contest, they will be tied with Dixon and DeKalb in the conference standing. The prospect appears very bright for a victory for Sterling as Belvidere has been a weak opponent for the other teams thus far this season.

The Dixon squad has but one more conference game this season, that being with Belvidere on the home grounds here next Saturday when both teams will be seen in action. Dixon goes to Oregon Nov. 23 and Sterling heaves come to this city for the annual Thanksgiving day contest in which only the heavyweights will be seen in action. It is probable that the lightweights may furnish attraction for holiday football fans at Sterling, November 16 is an open date which may be filled.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—(AP)—A new football attendance record appears certain when Notre Dame's hunting team tackles the University of Southern California on Soldier Field, Chicago, November 16.

More than 100,000 tickets have been sold and the remaining 18,000 was expected to go fast.

The Northwestern-Notre Dame contest at Dyer Stadium a week later is expected to attract 75,000.

FOOTBALL ALONE OF SPORTS PAYS COLLEGE PROFIT

Yale Student Paper In Comment On Report Of Foundation

BY MORRIS DE HAVEN TRACY
United Press Staff Correspondent
New Haven, Conn., Nov. 1.—(UP)—New England schools may be the first to attempt to find solutions for what the Carnegie Foundation report calls abuses in intercollegiate athletics.

Amherst and Williams, it was learned, are seriously considering proposals to turn the football teams over to the captain or quarterback during games, eliminating control of the strategy by the coach, and at Yale and Williams there is considerable discussion concerning the advisability of doing away with paid coaches.

It will be recalled that the Carnegie Foundation report charged that intercollegiate football had become commercialized and over-emphasized to the point where it constituted a menace to higher education.

Restriction of athletics to intramural competition is looked upon by many New England undergraduates as a Utopian scheme that would prove undesirable in this country, despite the fact that it is successful in England.

In that connection it was pointed out in an editorial in the Yale News that intra-mural athletics would be impossible were it not for the revenue that football brings. The editorial, by Maurice Francis Henon, a student editor, said:

"Football alone of the commercialized college sports makes money—as for colleges that do not possess the backing of Yale, Harvard and such, it is useless to urge simplicity and increased facilities on them in the place of their modern football. Without that business they would very probably pass out of existence entirely."

Out of a dozen students picked at random at Williams there were only two or three who were unfamiliar with the Carnegie report. T. Pendleton, a junior, summarized what seemed to be the attitude of the majority.

"We all back the football team and we want it to win," he said. "If it loses that's tough. Yet it is no reason to commit hari-hari. We don't have nightly mass meetings and bonfires. We try to maintain an accurate balance between things that are important and things that are not. Pendleton was of the opinion that the Williams student body would be antagonistic to any form of athletic subsidy.

The Williams Record, bi-weekly student publication, it was learned, may come out this week in favor of removing the coach from the bench during games.

Harmeson Leading Ground-Coverer

Chicago, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Averaging 73 yards a thrust, Glen Harmeson of Purdue tops the ground gainers of the Big Ten football ranks.

Harmeson carried the pigskin 39 times in conference games against Michigan and Chicago and totaled 284 yards. Faunce of Indiana ranks second with a 54 yard gain average with "Pest" Welch of Purdue third with a 51 yard average.

The Boilermakers collectively lead the Big Ten teams in yardage, carrying the ball 105 times for 698 yards—an average of 5.79 yards. Minnesota is second with a 3.86 average with Iowa third at 3.88 yards.

Hunting From Planes Violation U. S. Law

Choteau, Okla., Oct. 31.—(UP)—W. J. Walker, State Game Ranger, is investigating charges that aviator-hunters had been slaughtering ducks and geese. Choteau business men complained that "the birds did not have a chance" when frightened from lakes and shot down by hunters in airplanes that paralleled their flight. Walker said the practice was in violation of federal statutes.

OVER MILLION FANS WILL SEE SATURDAY GAMES

Reports On Sales Of Tickets Proof Of Popularity

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
New York, Nov. 1.—(UP)—The gridiron's first golden harvest of November will be shared tomorrow by colleges with good football teams. Almost a million persons will pay more than $2,000,000 to see thirty of the nation's outstanding games, according to a poll by the United Press.

With more than 100 games on the schedule, it is estimated that upwards of 2,000,000 persons will spend Saturday afternoon inside football stadiums.

Four of the nation's biggest games will attract 300,000 persons and more than $1,000,000 in cold cash. They are:

Yale vs. Dartmouth at New Haven, 80,000.
California vs. Southern California at Los Angeles, 80,000.

Pittsburgh vs. Ohio State at Pittsburgh, 70,000.

Navy vs. Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, 70,000.

Total, 300,000.
Because of the fact that Iowa and Michigan, two of the heaviest drawing elevens in the middle west, are idle and Ohio State, Notre Dame and Chicago are playing away from home, midwestern crowds will not be up to normal.

Three Big Ten games, however, will pack in about 110,000 persons. The leading game—Northwestern vs. Illinois at Evanston—will draw about 50,000. Minnesota and Indiana at Minneapolis expect to play to 25,000 and Wisconsin and Purdue at Madison are good for 35,000.

The Notre Dame-Georgia Tech game at Atlanta is a sellout, with the crowd limited to 30,000 only because there isn't room for any more.

Fields Is Offered Fight Ev Harmon

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Preston Raddy Harmon of the Chicago Stadium, today waited a reply from Jackie Fields, world welterweight champion, to an offer of $50,000 for a title bout with the winner of the Sammy Mandell-Jimmy McLarnin meeting at the Stadium November 4.

Both McLarnin and Mandell, who will tangle at the welterweight limit, have agreed to terms offered by Harmon, for a title meeting with Fields early next year. The offer was sent to Fields' manager, Gig Rooney, at San Francisco where the champion will meet Young Corbett in an over-weight bout next week.

Fields has been beaten by both McLarnin and Mandell. The coast Irishman knocked Fields out more than two years ago when they were featherweights, and Mandell outpointed him here about a year ago.

Pacific Coast Title At Stake Tomorrow

San Francisco, Nov. 1.—(AP)—The championship of the Pacific Coast conference may be decided tomorrow.

The Southern California Trojans and California Bears meet in Los Angeles. A victory for the Trojans, who already hold a 7-0 win over Stanford, will just about give them the title. They still have two more conference games to play, but both are against comparatively weak northern teams which are given practically no chance of stopping Troy.

If the Bears should spring an upset and beat Southern California tomorrow, they would still have to win three more conference games, the most outstanding of which is the big game with Stanford on November 23, to come out unbeaten.

Stanford is virtually out of the conference race. California has a chance to win by beating both the Trojans and the Cardinals, and Southern California might win even should the Bears take tomorrow's game.

The conference title is decided on percentages with the Southern California schedule calling for seven games as against Stanford's six and California's five.

Muddy Track Today For Pimlico Event

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 1.—(UP)—A muddy track was in prospect early today for the tenth renewal of the Pimlico Futurity at the opening of the Maryland Jockey Club's fall meeting.

Seventeen two-year-olds, including five fillies, were named overnight for the one mile and a sixteenth—a new distance for the juveniles. If all 17 entries start, it will be a record field. A crowd of 30,000 despite the gloomy weather outlook was expected to witness the race which will gross more than $70,000 if all seventeen go to the post.

W. R. Coe's Caruso, third behind Bookum and Whichone in the Hopeful, and Black Majesty, were among the most favored in the betting. Caruso, with Jockey J. Inzelone up, was a strong favorite.

Former Stars Will Don Their Uniforms

Rantoul, Ill., Nov. 1.—(AP)—Lieutenant Harry Wilson, captain of the West Point football team in 1927, will don his gridiron armor Sunday, in a game between the Chanute Field eleven, and a Decatur, Ill., team. "Light-Horse Harry" is receiving flying instruction at the Army Field here. Lieutenant Selter, coach of the Chanute eleven and a former Southern California end, also will be in the lineup.

ALLEGED RUM RUNNER TAKEN AFTER BATTLE

Two Men Injured, But No Contraband Is Found Aboard

Buffalo, Oct. 31.—(UP)—Two men were slightly wounded early today when Coast Guardsmen opened fire on the Uncas, claimed by Coast Guards to be the most notorious armor-plated rum runner on the Great Lakes, which was proceeding without lights on Lake Erie, it was announced today by Martin W. Rasmussen, District Coast Guard Commander.

The ship was seized off Cattaraugus Creek, about two miles east of Silver Creek, N. Y.

Approximately 20 rifle bullets were fired at the Uncas, Rasmussen said, with none being returned. He revealed that the Uncas escaped after a pitched battle with a cutter recently on Lake Ontario near Forty-Mile Point. About 600 shots were exchanged.

The Uncas, the Commander said, has bulletproof windows and is covered with armor with the exception of a small partition near the pilot house.

Found No Liquor

An examination of the 60-foot craft revealed no contraband aboard, Rasmussen said.

The wounded men who were taken to a hospital gave their names as John Smith, Detroit, and William Moore, Laurel, Mont. They suffered leg wounds when the rifle bullets fired by the Coast Guardsmen on the C. G.-8001 penetrated through a small wooded section of the craft not covered by armor.

Lloyd Deline of Lockport, N. Y., who escaped being hit, was arrested.

According to Rasmussen, the Uncas, now known on the lakes as the Butterly, had unloaded a cargo of liquor somewhere along Cattaraugus Creek and was proceeding out into the lake when hailed by the Coast Guard cutter.

When it failed to halt after being chased for a mile, Rasmussen said the boat was fired on. It was captured shortly after the opening volley.

Try to Unscramble Waggoner's Affairs

Pueblo, Colo., Oct. 31.—(AP)—The first attempt to unscramble the financial tangle caused by the half million dollars swindle which Charles D. Waggoner, president of the Bank of Telluride, Colo., perpetrated on six New York banks, was under way in District Court here today.

A suit seeking to recover $200,000 in cashier's checks from the First National Bank of Pueblo, deposited to the credit of the Telluride Bank by Waggoner, was filed yesterday by the State of Colorado.

Waggoner is in New York waiting to begin sentence of ten years in federal prison for using the mails to defraud.

Ritter Offers To Enter Guilty Plea

Marion, Ill., Oct. 31.—(UP)—Through attorneys, Connie Ritter, only survivor of the famous Birger gang, has spoken from his cell in the Benton jail and offered to plead guilty to the murders of Policeman Lory Price and his wife, if the state will recommend life imprisonment.

State's Attorney Roy Browning said in an address before a women's club here.

"It is a mighty big question," Browning said. "Figuring the cost to the county and the possibility that after all we might not get a greater penalty in the face of the others who have already been given life sentences. But I shall confer with a number of the leading and most influential citizens and their sentiments shall guide me in disposing of the case."

Ritter recently was captured in New Orleans and returned to Benton to face the charges. He also has been implicated in the murder of Mayor Joe Adams of West City.

Japan Fetes Wilson's Widow

IT'S TRUE, OF COURSE

Memphis Cat Mothers Baby Rat and an Ohio Cow Has Triplets—and Here's the Proof!

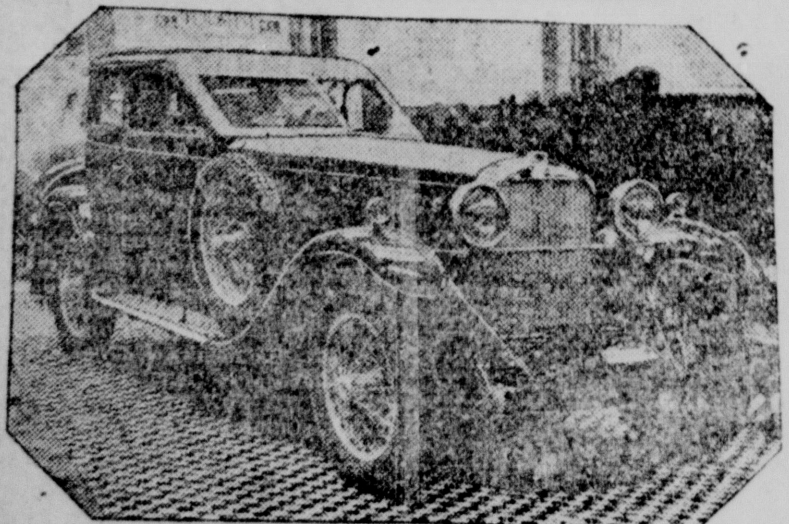

"When the cat's away, the mice will play—runs an old adage, but the rule has been broken in Memphis, Tenn. Pusam, an affable old cat owned by Imogene White, has added this baby rat to her brood of kittens and has taught the "arch enemy" to nurse with her own offspring.

"The old woman who lived in a shoe" had nothing on the mother that's living in a barn on John Garner's farm, near Canton, O. For Daisy—that's her name—is the proud mother of triplets, now three weeks old, who are shown with her here.
